

It's time to connect at work

Connected companies work better. They're businesses where people feel closer to the work and each other — where people find meaning in what they do.

Workplace is an easy-to-use platform that connects everyone within an organization.

It uses secure and mobile-friendly features like video calling, messaging and groups. It's simple to deploy and integrates with the other tools you already use to get work done.

Make sure everyone gets the message and is moving in the same direction.

Find the information you need to get the work done faster.

Get to know everyone better — and build a stronger business.

From startups to major corporations, Workplace creates connected organizations.
